

Repetition

By Jillian Eldridge

Light shines through the glass.

Morning is here,

Dew covers the grass,

But soon will disappear.

I clean, I wash, I work.

Exercise is key.

I eat, I hydrate, homework.

I'm a busy bee.

Though I do have my slow days,

Tired and lazy am I.

Rain, ugh, I'm crazed

Falling from the sky.

Darkness consumes the globe.

Night is here,

Brushing teeth, putting on my robe

Sleep is near.
