

Staying Home

By Cyrus Blake

Staying home is like art.

It takes patience.

If you rush it, things could get ugly.

When I stay home,

I make bread.

Bread takes time.

In fact, it takes 20 hours.

20 hours of sitting,

20 hours of thinking,

20 hours of reading,

20 hours of painting,

20 hours of watching,

But after all those hours are over,

You have a warm, crispy loaf of bread.

So make some bread when you

Stay home because after all

What else is there to do?
